MANHATTAN GUN CLUB SHOTS HERE

TOIYABE SHOOTERS COMING OVER TO TRY OUT MARKSMEN OF TONOPAH

The best shots of the Manhattan Gun club will be here tomorrow to try issues with the selected shots of the Tonopah rifle team on the grounds of the latter club out near the ball park. The shooting will be at distances of 200, 300 and 600 yards rapid fire, 10 shots at each range. This is a return match for the contest held at Manhattan two weeks ago when the Pine Tree men vanquished the miners from this section. The Manhattan team will consist of Percy Nash, Joe Connors, P. O. Harris, L. W. Rakestraw, W. R. Wilcox, Clark James and Mark Page. The local shots will be Dr. T. A. Musante, Arthur G. Raycraft, Russell Williams, Chris. Dowler, Vaile Pittman, Ed. Cullinan and Bob Gillan.

RECRUITS APPEAR AT COURT HOUSE

In response to the notice of the local exemption board ten young men appeared at the courthouse this morning to take the physical examination. There was no delay and the registrants were not detained from their business more than an hour. Lawrence E. Glass, county clerk, who is clerk of the exemption board, says there is no authority for stating that only ten candidates from Nye county have qualified. Nothing can be stated on this score until after hearing the claims for exemption and receiving notice from the provost marshal about the credits coming to Nye county for those who enlisted in the regular army after they had been drawn but before posting names. If these men are credited to this county the list of men accepted will be at least 24, leaving two score more to fill out the first call.

CURIOUS CHAMELEONS.

Wonderful Powers of Motion in Their Eyes and Tongues.

The chameleon is an African lizard of peculiar form and structure. One feature of the chameleon is that his neck is so short that he cannot turn his head. To make up for this, however, he has remarkable powers of motion in his large, prominent eyes; they move independently of each other and are covered with a membrane pierced only by a small hole for the pupils to look through.

The chameleon is not covered with scales. The body is raised by the legs rather higher than most lizards, and each foot has the power of grasping like a hand. The animal's lungs are very large, and it has an unusual power of inflating itself with air. The tongue is remarkably extensible. The animal lives upon insects, which it seizes with its tongue, darting at them unerringly, while a viscous saliva causes them to adhere to it.

Except for their eyes and tongues, the movements of chameleons are slow. They live on the branches of trees, but lay their eggs under leaves on the ground. The eggs are large, and the chameleon lays ten or twelve. One of their peculiarities is their great power of fasting, which, coupled with their gulping of air in their great lungs, gave rise to the fable of the ancients that they lived on air.

Their celebrated power of changing color is not, however, equally fabulous. This depends upon the presence of two differently colored layers of pigment under a transparent skin, which may show simultaneously or one at a time or blend.

AMUSEMENTS

BUTLER THEATER

"Should large landholders be compelled to look after the welfare of those working under them?" This question is raised in "A Magdalene of the Hills," the five part feature at the Butler today. In the play Herbert Grayson, a wealthy New Yorker, has large timber holdings in a southern state. He will not have schools on his land. His policy leads to bitter feeling and finally a tragedy. A mountain youth who is suspected of having set fire to one of Grayson's mills is killed while resisting arrest, and his sister vows vengeance on his slayers. The play shows the life of southern mountain dwellers and the barrier existing between them and wealthy people who they suspect and despise because of misunderstandings bred by caste. Miss Taliaferro considers the role of Renie Mathias the strongest of her screen career. Into the part she put unusual power and beauty. Time to laugh. Charlie Chaplin in "One A. M." This comedy we have seen and can promise that it is a laughmaker from start to finish. Charlie Chaplin rules as being the cleverest in the world and this is one of his best. Remember tomorrow the last number of "The Mystery of the Double Cross," some surprises for you in it. Also Theodore Roberts in "American Consul."

ORDERED TO THE RESERVE CAMP FOR U. S. OFFICERS

Manager Chris Dowler, of the Nevada Gas company, received notice this morning that he had passed the examination and instructing him to report at the officers reserve camp at the Presidio, San Francisco, on August 25th. Mr. Dowler is a candidate for the engineer corps but according to the rules of the service, he must accept whatever assignment is given him after three months' intensive training.

NOTICE TO REGISTRANTS

Conscripts receiving notices to present themselves for examination before the local Board of Nye County on August 15th, 16, and 17th, can have their examinations effected by appearing before the Board any day prior to the dates mentioned in official notices. This has been decided upon as it may suit the convenience of conscripts to so appear instead of waiting for the particular day or date. Anyone notified to appear on dates mentioned, if he so elects, may call at the sheriff's office, prior to date fixed, any morning at 10 o'clock for examination.

FLASH FROM OAKLAND SAYS JOHN W. CONNORS IS FATHER

It was a brief message that flashed over the wires this morning but it was sufficient to render John W. Connors, of the Bonanza force, one of the proudest young men in the state for it advised him that he was the father of as pretty a girl baby as ever was born. The event happened in Oakland, Cal., where the expectant mother went about a month ago. Before her marriage Mrs. Connors was well known among the younger social set as Miss Dett Hallihan. Mother and child are doing well.
